EXTRACT

Taken from Oppenheimer, by Tom Morton-Smith

These notes are intended to help you understand the context of the drama.

Tom Morton-Smith's play Oppenheimer was first performed by the Royal Shakespeare Company in England in 2015. The play traces the events surrounding one of the most significant scientific developments in the twentieth century, the atomic bomb. The man who led the project was J. Robert Oppenheimer, an American theoretical physicist, who is often referred to as 'the father of the atomic bomb'. Convinced of his own importance, Oppenheimer commanded immense respect from his research students, and also attracted the admiration of several women.

The historical span of the play covers the period from the 1930s into the Second World War. It opens at the time of the Spanish Civil War (1936–1939), which was a period when some American intellectuals held strong left-wing, even communist, beliefs.

The play is in two Acts, and the extract consists of an abridged version of Act 1. The play has been edited to reduce the length of the extract, which means that a number of scenes have been omitted.

1 - LECTURE SERIES: INTRODUCTION

A lecture theatre.

J Robert Oppenheimer [OPPIE] addresses a gathering of students. He reads from a slim, red book: Atomic Theory and the Description of Nature – Niels Bohr, 1934.

OPPIE: 'The task of science is both to extend the range of our experience and to reduce it to order.' So says Niels Bohr. It is only by experience that we can discern the laws that govern our universe. So as we learn ... as we grow ... we must be prepared to alter our methods for ordering our experience ... because we come to surpass those techniques ... those patterns ... that 10 once instructed us. Life is nothing if not a constant re-evaluation of what we believe to be correct, and a constant reassessment of the ways we gauge that correctness. What was true yesterday can be less true today, because we have learnt ... and will learn ... better. My name is J Robert Oppenheimer. You will come to 15 know me as Oppie. I expect you to be attentive. I expect you to be present. And if some aspect of the lecture doesn't make sense, then perhaps we are getting somewhere. There is no negotiation ... no debate ... with the complexity of the universe. If the work eludes you ... if you simply lack the ability ... then take your leave. I can make it clearer, but I cannot make it simpler. Let us begin.

2 – A FUNDRAISER FOR THE RELIEF EFFORT IN SPAIN

The Oppenheimer residence – Berkeley, California.

A party is in full swing. Music plays. The room bustles with people - people who are drinking, dancing, laughing and generally having an excellent time.

People present include: OPPIE, FRANK Oppenheimer, Giovanni Rossi LOMANITZ, Bob SERBER, JACKIE Oppenheimer, JEAN Tatlock, Joe WEINBERG, Robert WILSON, HAAKON Chevalier and CHARLOTTE Serber.

FRANK: LOMANITZ: FRANK: SERBER:	Roosevelt! Ha! Roosevelt! Franklin Delano Roosevelt! My goodness, Frank, you've got to give it a rest.
FRANK:	Roosevelt's greatest achievement has been to get people thinking about employment about economics once the working man actually considers employment, economics, race- relations that's the start that's the route to socialism communism.	35
SERBER: LOMANITZ: FRANK:	Frank you're kicking at an open door! A specter is haunting Frank Oppenheimer. What the New Deal has done the legacy of the New Deal it has opened people's eyes the Great Depression the Wall	40

OPPIE:	Street Crash that way no longer works. Robert brother of mine big brother big Robert back me up If booze is present in your glass then your argument cannot maintain its structure. It will inevitably collapse.	45
FRANK:	My glass is empty.
JACKIE: FRANK:	Frank, will you lay off the sermons? Hey baby hey sweet-cheeks how's about I spin you round the floor?	50
LOMANITZ:	Please, Jackie take him dancing.
SERBER:	Burn off some of that liquor.
JACKIE: OPPIE:	Show me your moves, mister. Frank's not wrong the people's eyes are open.	55
LOMANITZ:	To be fair to the guy if you're going to air your leftist politics where better than a Communist Party fundraiser?	00
SERBER:	I thought we were raising money for the relief effort in Spain?
OPPIE: LOMANITZ:	It's getting dispersed distributed through the Party. What difference does it make? Sign me up to the union. I'm there.	60
JEAN:	[Standing on a table, banging on a collection bucket.] Workers of the world – unite!
	The music and dancing stops and everybody turns their attention to JEAN.	65
JEAN:	For too long the White House has ignored the rise of fascism in Europe. Our government sits impotently by while Franco marches on Barcelona. Civilians fleeing the violence are interned in camps across the French border. I ask you – do	70
	you believe, even if there are thousands of miles between you, that your brother is any less your brother? We are not asking for money to fight a war we are asking for money to feed children to pay for medicines to return some dignity to those who fascism has stripped bare. Compare their sacrifice with the dollar bill in your wallet and please give generously.	70 75
	Thank you.
	Cheering and applause. Some voices in the crowd start singing 'L'Internationale'. More and more people join in until eventually everyone is singing.

	JEAN moves around with a collection bucket in hand.	80
LOMANITZ: JEAN:	Here she comes prepare yourself for a fleecing. So, gentlemen dust off your wallets. [To SERBER.] Are you a socialist?
SERBER:	Yes, ma'am.
JEAN:	Then put your money in the pot. [To LOMANITZ.] Are you a socialist?	85
LOMANITZ: JEAN:	Through and through. In it goes. And you?

WEINBERG: LOMANITZ:	I might have only just joined Oppie's department, but I'm a fully paid-up member of the Communist Party USA. Comrade!	90
JEAN:	Robert! Robert, your boys you must be a proud Papa Bear.
OPPIE:	Give the nice lady your donation.
JEAN:	I want to see paper money. This nickel and dime crap is weighing me down.	95
WEINBERG: JEAN:	I just wanted to take this chance to introduce myself properly Oh yes?
WEINBERG:	You have such a lovely home and I'm a great admirer of your husband
JEAN:	Is that so?	100
WEINBERG:	It's a pleasure to make your acquaintance, Mrs Oppenheimer.
OPPIE:	Joe, Jean and I aren't married.
WEINBERG:	Oh, I I'm sorry I just assumed
OPPIE:	It's quite alright.
WEINBERG:	Oh god.	105
LOMANITZ:	This way, Joe there are some folks over here you've yet to embarrass yourself in front of.
JEAN:	Not very smart, your new disciple.
OPPIE:	He's a bright kid. They're all bright kids.
JEAN:	[To SERBER.] How old are you?	110
SERBER:	Thirty.
JEAN: OPPIE:	'Kids'.
LOMANITZ:	Serber doesn't count. Rossi, how old are you? Eighteen.
JEAN:	That proves nothing. [Takes LOMANITZ's drink] And you you	115
	should not be drinking.	110
LOMANITZ:	And how old are you?
JEAN:	I don't think I like this one.

HAAKON:	Slow.
OPPIE:	Send me what you have.	125
HAAKON:	I have a chapter a chapter and a half
OPPIE:	Let me read it.
HAAKON:	Thank you. If it's not too much trouble?
OPPIE:	My friend, you bring me poetry. It's no trouble at all.
LOMANITZ:	Oppie I wanted to return that book you lent me?	130
OPPIE:	On the bookcase is fine.
LOMANITZ:	I wanted to say I haven't quite I'm still taking notes from it wondering if I could?
HAAKON:	What's the book?
LOMANITZ:	Henri de Saint-Simon.	135
OPPIE:	It's fine, Rossi. Hang on to it.
LOMANITZ:	Thank you.

HAAKON: OPPIE:	You have your students reading socialist philosophy? I have them learning about the world.
	CHARLOTTE enters. She has lifted the front of her skirt in front of her skirt in front of her so that she can carry a large amount of change.	140
SERBER:	There she is the love of my life. Where have you been hiding yourself?
CHARLOTTE: JEAN: JACKIE: SERBER: JACKIE:	There were some pockets unpicked in the kitchen. In the bucket it goes! Have any of you seen Frank? He was headed to the bathroom. Oh god.	145
JEAN:	Lost your dancing partner? Here, let me [Pulls JACKIE to the middle of the floor.]	150
JACKIE: JEAN:	Oh, I … I couldn't … Don't worry your pretty little face … I'll lead!

CHARLOTTE: SERBER:	Goodnight, Jean. Goodnight, Oppie. Wilson, you coming?
	LOMANITZ pulls WILSON, SERBER and WEINBERG together and leads them in song. They reprise the chorus of L'Internationale. JEAN, OPPIE and HAAKON applaud as SERBER, WEINBERG, WILSON, LOMANITZ and CHARLOTTE exit.	175

JEAN: OPPIE:	That was a night.

JEAN:	What did you make of my speech?	(00
OPPIE:	Your clarion-call to the global proletariat?	190
JEAN:	Yes. Did it stir you? Were you stirred?
OPPIE:	I was worried your shoes might scuff my tabletop.
JEAN:	[Sings.]

	Arise ye prisoners of want	195

JEAN:	Has it?
OPPIE:	Two months and no word no telephone call
JEAN:	You sound like my mother.
OPPIE:	What do you expect? Open arms? Where have you been?	200
JEAN:	You are not my only friend.
OPPIE:	I am abundantly aware.
JEAN:	You need to relax. You have nothing to lose but your chains.
OPPIE:	You let yourself in as though you've been to the corner store. You

JEAN:	Jackie was having a great time.

11 – LECTURE SERIES: A LETTER TO A PRESIDENT

Albert EINSTEIN reads from a letter.

EINSTEIN: 'Mr Roosevelt ... Mr President ... Sir. I believe that it may soon become possible to set up a nuclear chain reaction in a large mass of the element uranium ... thus generating a vast amount 235 of power. This phenomenon may lead to the construction of a new type of extremely powerful bomb. A single bomb that may very well flatten a city. I understand that, since her expansion into the Sudetenland, Germany has stopped the sale of uranium from the Czechoslovakian mines that she has taken over. 240 Are the Nazis aware of the potential of uranium? Of course. May I suggest that this situation calls for watchfulness and, if necessary, quick action on the part of your administration. Yours truly ...'

12 – THE LINCOLN BATTALION

A garden party in Pasadena, California.

The sun is shining and music is playing. Partygoers are having an excellent time. HAAKON is chatting to a group of people. OPPIE stands to one side.

A band strikes up and sings a jaunty version of 'Jarama Valley', a soldier's song of the Spanish Civil War. KITTY Harrison 250 approaches OPPIE with a drink.

KITTY:	Here.
OPPIE:	What's this?
KITTY:	A drink. You look like you need one.
OPPIE:	Thank you	255
KITTY:	Kitty Harrison.
OPPIE:	Thank you, Kitty.
KITTY:	That's no problem at all.
OPPIE:	Are you not joining in with the?
KITTY:	Discussions debates? No. My husband dragged me along.	260
	This is very much his sort of thing.
OPPIE:	It isn't yours?
KITTY:	Maybe once. My first husband died pointlessly in Spain. To hear the band sing of the Lincoln Battalion of the brave Americans
	volunteers in the noble battle against Franco	265
OPPIE:	I am sorry.
KITTY:	All of his friends all of our friends and that includes my

OPPIE:	[Declines.]	275
KITTY: OPPIE:	A friend of yours? He wants you to go meet some people. He wants to wheel me around. I expect he's losing an argument he'd like to win.
KITTY:	You're his secret weapon?
OPPIE: KITTY:	Hardly. Please. I cannot bear false modesty – my husband is British. [Beat.] What is it you do?	280
OPPIE: KITTY:	I'm a professor of physics. You're a smart one then you're a thinker.
OPPIE: KITTY:	It has been known.	285
KILLY:	If we left together now where would we go? If we threw off the garbage of the world where would you, professor of physics, take me?
OPPIE: KITTY:	If we were to leave right now? Right now.	290
OPPIE:	I have a ranch up in the mountains of New Mexico. A simple, wooden ranch. A forest glade horse riding the stars in the sky. A wood burning stove.	200
KITTY: OPPIE:	It sounds perfect. It's a bit of a drive.	005
KITTY:	If we could swing by a drugstore, I could pick up a toothbrush.	295
OPPIE: KITTY:	You don't want to stay for the lecture? Spontaneism and the dialectics of revolutionary yadda yadda yadda I would rather eat glass.
	RICHARD Harrison approaches.	300
RICHARD: KITTY:	Darling the talk is about to begin Richard, do you know?
OPPIE:	Robert Oppenheimer.
KITTY: RICHARD:	Robert, my husband Richard. We should take our seat.	305
KITTY: OPPIE:	Will you not join us? Please. I know what will be said.
KITTY:	Yes.
RICHARD: KITTY:	Darling we really must It was a pleasure to meet you, Robert.	310

OPPIE:	I hope that our paths cross again. We should make certain of it.
KITTY:	Yes. We should.

	Several weeks later. The Oppenheimer residence.	315
HAAKON:	I want your advice suggestions rewrites if necessary. Will you cast your eye over?
OPPIE: HAAKON:	I'm flattered that you would ask, but you're the novelist, not I. This isn't the novel, this is this is a pamphlet on behalf of the	200

	Committee of the Communist Party of California. This is a letter to be sent to Soviet Russia Today to be published in their September issue.
OPPIE: HAAKON:	And what do these pamphlets say? They are petitioning against war. Now more than ever, we have to be vocal. Europe is on a precipice and political discourse in this country is lurching to the right. The politicians are stoking our hate stoking our fear priming us for violence.	325
OPPIE:	You would have me throw my weight behind the Communist Party?	330
HAAKON: OPPIE: HAAKON:	The Party's beliefs are your beliefs. My beliefs would not allow for treaties with fascists. That is not that is
OPPIE:	The Soviets have signed a treaty of Non-Aggression with the Nazis. Is Eastern Europe a carvery now? The carcass of a roasted bird stripped for soup stripped for stock. People are tearing up their Party cards cursing Engels cursing Marx because the German military machine has no counter no balance no equal and opposite if the Soviet Union	335
HAAKON:	does nothing. And this treaty of theirs is formalized nothing. I cannot claim to understand diplomacy	340
OPPIE:	And the word from Russia the purges and the show-trials we hear of the forced labor camps the famine
HAAKON: OPPIE:	We all know the rumors. And so far we have dismissed them	345
HAAKON: OPPIE:	as Trotskyite lies and disinformation. But in light of the Non-Aggression Pact?
HAAKON:	It's garbage! The capitalists will say anything to discredit to harm to have us fighting amongst ourselves.
OPPIE: HAAKON: OPPIE:	So it's the Trotskyites and the capitalists? Yes! and we are to lap this up hold our nose and believe that	350

16 - LECTURE SERIES: CHAIN REACTION

OPPIE: There was a Maharaja who had a great passion for chess. Travelers ... as they passed through his court ... were invited to his throne room and challenged to a game. One day a visiting sage appeared at the palace gates. He was welcomed and brought before the king. 'Do you know chess?' 'I do.' 'Then let 430 us play.' The sage smiled and politely inquired as to what his prize would be if he were to win. The Maharaja laughed and offered any reward that the old man could name. The sage modestly asked for a few grains of rice. 'How many grains?' enquired the king. 'Place one grain of rice on the first square 435 of the chessboard ... two on the next ... four the next ... then eight ... sixteen ... and keep doubling the number of grains on every following square.' 'Very well.' And so they played. It was a hard fought game, but it did not go the way of the king. Having lost ... and being a man of his word ... the Maharaja ordered 440 for a bag of rice to be brought to the chessboard. He placed one grain on the first square ... two on the second ... then four ... eight ... sixteen ... thirty-two ... sixty-four ... 128 ... 256 ... 512 ... 1,024 ... 2,048 ... 4,096 ... I could do this all day. By the twentieth square the Maharaja required a million grains of 445 rice ... by the final sixty-fourth square he required more rice than had ever existed ... enough to cover all of India with a layer one meter thick. Such an amount would require paddy fields covering twice the surface of the world - oceans included. The Maharaja was astounded. It was at this point that the Lord 450 Krishna shook off the image of the sage, revealing his true identity to the king. 'Now you are humbled before the power of exponential mathematics.' [Beat.] A neutron enters an atom ... splits it ... two further neutrons are released ... and what you have is a chain reaction. 455

SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	Yes. as the basis for a bomb. Yeah I since Pearl Harbor, it's all I can think about. That and signing up. But my eyesight's appalling; I wouldn't make it past the physical. Probably wouldn't make minimum height. And now the Russians have joined the war and I'm I'm cheering inside like a full-blown warmonger.	470 475
OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	How much uranium do you think we'd need? The minimum amount? for a chain reaction. Yes. How much? Well I don't know we've talked in my department
OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE:	we've talked Can you give me numbers? The amounts people are throwing around range from six hundred grams to a ton. A ton of uranium-235?	480
SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE:	It would have to be. It would take time to separate to refine There would have to be a large-scale industrial It would be easier if I thought it was beyond me. I know it is not. I see it so clearly in my mind I can picture a uranium device	485
	I can picture its components sometimes it has stars and stripes stenciled to its casing but more often than not it has a swastika. SERBER: OPPIE:	I ask 'can you give me numbers', what I want to know is: can you give me numbers? I don't have any for you right now, but I'm certain I can get them. Do it.	-55
SERBER: OPPIE:	Sure. There needs to be gathering of minds there needs to be discussion. I'm bringing together people from Cornell and Chicago from Princeton Harvard. I need you with me in Berkeley.	500
SERBER: OPPIE:	Sure sure We need to be solid on the theory and we need to consider the practical implications on design. What sort of fissionable material what sort of blast radius how much energy will be released.	505
SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE:	Of course of course my god Bob? Yes, Oppie? The uranium bomb is entirely possible, therefore it is entirely inevitable. It's not a question of 'should'; it's a question of 'when'	510
	of 'where' of 'by whom'.	515

18 – THE FIRST FEASIBILITY DISCUSSIONS

Berkeley campus.

LOMANITZ: WILSON: WEINBERG: LOMANITZ: SERBER:	The room is filled with a select group of physicists, including OPPIE, Edward TELLER and Hans BETHE. SERBER, WILSON and WEINBERG are preparing to give a presentation. LOMANITZ enters – he is late. Sorry I'm sorry I got caught up at a meeting. Gee it's like a Nobel longlist in here. Try not to say anything too stupid. I haven't pressed my shirt. What are we talking about? Halifax? Halifax.	520 525
	The lights darken.
	WEINBERG operates a projector.
	Black and white images of the devastated city of Halifax, Nova Scotia.	530
WEINBERG: WILSON:	This is Halifax, Nova Scotia. On December 6th 1917, a French cargo-ship, fully stocked with wartime explosives, collided with a Norwegian vessel inside Halifax harbor.
LOMANITZ:	The resulting explosion caused the immediate death of two- thousand people. Nine thousand sustained injury.	535
SERBER:	All structures within the one and a half mile blast radius were leveled.
WILSON:	The subsequent pressure wave bent iron railings snapped trees dispersed debris up to as much as ten miles.	540
WEINBERG:	The ship's anchor or a portion of it weighing in excess of 1,100 pounds was carried a distance of 2.3 miles.	010
SERBER:	One of the gun barrels landed in Dartmouth, a town some 3.4 miles to the east.
LOMANITZ:	The force of the blast is estimated to be somewhere in the region of 2.9 kilotons.	545
SERBER: OPPIE:	That's the equivalent effect of 2,900 tons of TNT. Thank you.
	The lights are switched back on.
OPPIE:	This is the level of destruction that we are hoping to achieve. We are familiar with the physicists the Nazis have at their disposal. We have studied with them corresponded with them worked with them lived with them. Heisenberg. If we are capable of building this bomb, then so are they. Tenfold.	550
	And we are behind. The British government have been making great strides and, in the spirit of our mutual struggle, they have agreed to share with us what progress they have made. It's not much, but it's as good a starting point as any. I'll be making those documents available to you.	555
BETHE: OPPIE:	This British report what areas does it concern itself with? Hello, Hans. For those of you who don't know, this is Hans Bethe, who is joining us from Cornell.	560

	pers.com

BETHE: OPPIE:	Hello. As for the report, it mostly deals with the cost estimates and technical specifications for a large uranium enrichment plant it also contains some ideas on assembly and some work on efficiency. I would also suggest that you speak with Bob Serber who has been diligently working on critical mass calculations. What I propose we do over these next few weeks is pool our ideas. Collaborate. Bring everything you have any epiphanies any eureka moment however outlandish I want to see it. We'll reconvene tomorrow.	565 570
	The gathered scientists break off into groups. Everyone is chatting. Everyone is excited.
WILSON: BETHE: WILSON:	Professor Bethe? Yes? I have to say it is an honor to meet you and to have the chance to possibly work beside you gee I mean	575
BETHE: WILSON:	That is very kind of you to say. Your work on the subject of nuclear reactions cross-sections and atomic nuclei I mean it's wow just wow.	580
BETHE: WILSON:	It is always nice to meet a fan. I have a copy of Reviews of Modern Physics with your articles would you mind signing?
BETHE: WEINBERG: BETHE: TELLER:	Of course. Actually, we all have copies could you? Of course of course Oppie?	585
OPPIE: TELLER:	Edward Teller! I am so pleased you could make it. Hans and I shared a train carriage from Chicago. I hear it is you I have to thank for the change in my status.	590
OPPIE: TELLER:	Ah, yes. They denied my clearance for classified work simply because I am Hungarian. As though all Hungarians must support that fascist of an admiral who conspires with Nazis. This study group of yours it is a good start. I am pleased that finally something substantial is being done.	595

GROVES: September 17th 1942. I am called to the office of my superior. I know these corridors ... I built these corridors ... Colonel Leslie R Groves of the Army Corps of Engineers ... the man who built the Pentagon. My blood is in this mortar. These hinges are oiled with my sweat. 'You are familiar with the S-1 Committee?' 'I am, sir.' 'What do you know of the S-1 Committee?' 'The S-1 Committee is in charge of investigating the properties and manufacture of uranium, sir.' 'Do you understand the purpose of the S-1 Committee?' 'Not fully, sir. I can't say that I do, sir.' 'It is weapons development.' 'I see, sir. I was hoping for a combat assignment, sir. Overseas, sir.' 'That is not going to happen.' 'I see, sir.' 'The development of this new uranium bomb is to become a military operation.' 'Yes, sir.' 'It is to be instilled with a sense of urgency.' 'Yes, sir.' 'If you do this job right, it will win us the war.' '' 'Groves?' 'Yes, sir.' 'I said it will win us the war.' 'We have bombs already, sir.' 'The decision has been made. You will be promoted to the rank of general.' 'Thank you, sir. I was hoping for a combat assignment, sir.' 'Well, you have this instead.' 'Sir, yes, sir.' 'Congratulations, General.' 'Sir, thank you, sir.' I am handed some files. I am appointed a personal aide. If I am ordered to build a wall, I buy bricks. If I am ordered to shoot a man, I count my bullets. If I am ordered to throw myself in front of a train, I consult a timetable. Where to begin where to begin?	615 620

	20 – THE OPPENHEIMER HOUSEHOLD
	OPPIE in one corner. KITTY in the other, reading. CHARLOTTE holds baby PETER in her arms. SERBER has a ukulele. They sing PETER a lullaby.
CHARLOTTE: OPPIE: CHARLOTTE: SERBER:	Say goodnight to everyone, Peter. Say goodnight to Daddy. Goodnight, my darling. Say goodnight to Mummy. I'll put him to bed. Bob? Sure.	625
	SERBER and CHARLOTTE exit.
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	I smell of sick. I smell of sick, off-milk and baby. You smell of perfume. It masks the odor of baby. [Beat.] He has sharp little fingernails and he claws at me he's constantly sucking sucking and	630
OPPIE: KITTY: OPPIE:	biting and scratching and Kitty I'm chapped. I'm cracked. I'm broken and sore. He doesn't sleep. He's sleeping right now.	635
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	He doesn't sleep for me. I am falling apart! You have Charlotte. You have Bob. And what am I paying the nanny for? Four days a week she comes. I cannot cope.	640
	21 – THE OFFICES AT BERKELEY
	The offices at Berkeley.
	GROVES and NICHOLS stand before OPPIE and SERBER.
GROVES:	The eagle on this man's collar do you know what it signifies? It signifies that this man has risen to the rank of colonel. Quite the achievement. A colonel in the United States army can command up to two thousand men. [Removes his jacket .] My uniform, as you can see, is adorned with three of these here silver stars. [Hands jacket to NICHOLS.] See that this is dry-	645
NICHOLS: GROVES:	cleaned. Sir. Yes, sir. [Exits.] Three silver stars, Professor. I am a commander of men. The rank of general puts the fear of a righteous god into the heart of the average serviceman. But I understand that rank alone is not	650
$ 2017	enough to impress you not enough to earn your respect. So	655

	let me tell you this I am an engineer. I have a degree from the University of Washington in Seattle and a second degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. I graduated fourth in my class at West Point. I am an educated man. I may not be your equal, but I am damn close. And I have these stars.	660
OPPIE: SERBER:	Bob, would you fetch the General and I some coffee? Sure thing. [Exits.]	000
OPPIE: GROVES:	I am also a commander of men. Washington has decided to bring all of the governmental committees all of the civilian contracted projects all of the work on this new form of bomb under one banner. A military banner. My banner.	665
OPPIE: GROVES: OPPIE:	I see. Are you a Communist? It is a yes or no question. It really isn't. 'Are you a card-carrying member of the Communist Party?' is a yes or no question.	670
GROVES: OPPIE: GROVES:	Are you? No. Have you ever been?
OPPIE: GROVES: OPPIE: GROVES:	No. Would you consider yourself a Marxist? That is a ridiculous question. How so?	675
OPPIE: GROVES:	I understand gravity. I understand the laws of motion. I understand optics. Do I go around calling myself a Newtonian? This symposium of yours this gathering of minds it shows initiative. It is proving fruitful?	680
OPPIE: GROVES:	I would say so, yes. It smacks of ambition. I do not disapprove. May I offer you a word of advice, Professor Oppenheimer?	685
OPPIE: GROVES:	Please. You are, it seems to me, a uniquely useful individual. Your ambition is great and your capability is great. That one does not outstrip the other is something of a marvel. So listen to me as I say: your affiliations and your associations with the Communist Party with members of the Communist Party [Shakes	690
OPPIE:	head.] If you wish to progress, then there must be distance. Do you wish to progress? Yes.
GROVES:	The US military is now the proud owner of 1,200 tons of as yet unrefined uranium ore. I placed that order on my first day. On the second day I purchased a refinement facility in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. That this had not already been done tells me that	695
	no one involved in this project is thinking practically. So think practically. If you had resource if you were 'the guy' what would be our next move?	700
	22 – THE OPPENHEIMER BROTHERS
	FRANK and JACKIE's house.
OPPIE: JACKIE:	Is he here? [Calls off.] Frank? [Beat.] He won't be long.
	Silence.	705

JACKIE:	Hello, Jackie. Good to see you, Jackie. How have you been? Well, I trust. You're looking well. How's work, Jackie? Have you done something new to your hair?
OPPIE:	When did you last meet with your Communist Party unit?
JACKIE:	Excuse me?	710
FRANK:	[Enters.] Hello, Robert. It's good to see you.
OPPIE:	When did you last meet with your street unit?
FRANK:	Oh god I can't remember when was it? Weeks ago
OPPIE:	When was the last time you held a meeting here?
FRANK:	Month before last. Why?	715
OPPIE:	You're not to do it again. You're not to host meetings you're not to attend. Do you still have your Party card?
FRANK:	l guess.
OPPIE:	Let me see it. Let me see you tear it up.
FRANK:	Now just one second	720
OPPIE:	Where is it?
JACKIE:	In the desk.
OPPIE:	Fetch it.
FRANK:	What is all this ?
OPPIE:	Fetch it.	725
JACKIE:	No.
OPPIE:	You're to destroy your Party cards you're to sever all Party
	contact you're to avoid any and all known Party members
JACKIE:	They're our friends.
OPPIE:	you're to resign from the teacher's union.	730
FRANK:	Okay no.
OPPIE:	You need to put away your childish idealism.
FRANK:	The Communists are the only answer to fascism in Europe here in Spain
OPPIE:	To hell with Spain! To hell with the Spanish Cause! I am sick of	735
	it! How many martinis how many buckets filled with nickels how many ineffective, chattering parties how many pamphlets how many lectures and still the fascists take Spain!
FRANK:	The labor movement workers rights segregation tell me which other party – ?	740
OPPIE:	This is not the time for those things.
FRANK:	Not the time? Well either way whatever your thoughts
	whatever your protests
OPPIE:	Your career
FRANK:	Let us not kid ourselves that this is in any way about my career.	745
OPPIE:	You're a child.
FRANK:	No. I am not. And these are my decisions to make.
OPPIE:	You have a tendency to make very poor decisions.
FRANK:	I'm sorry?
JACKIE:	I think it's time you left.	750
FRANK:	I'm sorry because I married a waitress?
OPPIE:	You have to you have to distance yourself from
FRANK:	What I should've done what I should've done was to find myself a nice, wholesome girl someone of a comparable status perhaps someone of breeding and sleep with her	755 behind her husband's back until she falls pregnant.

23 – THE OPPENHEIMER RESIDENCE

The Oppenheimer residence.

OPPIE, KITTY, SERBER, CHARLOTTE, BETHE, HAAKON and TELLER are in little groups talking and drinking.

KITTY opens a bottle of champagne and goes to pour some for 760 BETHE.

BETHE: KITTY: BETHE:	Thank you, no. You don't like champagne, Hans? I was raised on the French-German border. I like champagne just fine. This – not so much.	765
HAAKON: TELLER: HAAKON:	You're a professor? Indeed. As am I.	,
TELLER: HAAKON: TELLER:	I've not heard of you. Of the Romance Languages. Ah.	770
HAAKON: TELLER:	Do I detect a German accent? I own an 1867 edition of Das Kapital. I am Hungarian. And I have not read Marx.
HAAKON: TELLER:	Oh? People might mistake me for a Democrat.	775
SERBER: KITTY: SERBER:	What are we celebrating? Can we tell them about it? Tell us about what?
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	They'll know soon enough. I'm not supposed to talk about it. Robert had a visit from the military.	780
TELLER: OPPIE: BETHE: SERBER:	Is this about the bomb? It's all very hush-hush. We are all inside the circle here. Well, with the exception of Haakon perhaps.	785
HAAKON: OPPIE:	Do you want me to leave? No I
HAAKON:	I'm not in your department I'm not even the spouse of someone in your department it's fine. I need a trip to the little linguist's room anyway, so [Exits.]	790
BETHE: OPPIE: CHARLOTTE:	Oppie? You must understand, the details are not yet finalized Tell us!
OPPIE:	A laboratory is going to be built. A laboratory dedicated to the building of this bomb probably somewhere quite remote. It will be a continuation of our discussions and work at Berkeley, but now well as a legitimate and sanctioned part of the	795
TELLER: KITTY: OPPIE:	war effort. A central laboratory? A national laboratory. And I will be its director.	800

25 - OPPIE AND HAAKON

OPPIE and HAAKON

HAAKON:	Oppie, may I have a word? [Pause .] I will never suffer nor ever comprehend the suffering felt by those at the heart of this war but don't deny my empathy. The Russians Stalingrad they're fighting with their teeth and their hands with pitchforks and kitchen knives. [Beat.] It is clear to everyone on campus that	805
	the physics department is involved in that you are working on something very important. I have a proposition for you I think that you will want to hear it. I saw a friend of mine recently a man you are known to him he shares our sympathies. He has a means of getting technical information to the Soviets.	810
oppie: Haakon:	[Silence .] Do you not believe that the Russians have a right to know? Or, indeed, that they may be able to help? I am no physicist I have no useful skills here but I can do this. So let me do this.	815

27 - IGNITION

TELLER:	We were discussing Hans' work on the cycle of nuclear fusion in stars	820
BETHE: TELLER:	stars generate power by fusing elements together in the case of our sun it fuses the lightest element to make the second lightest
BETHE:	hydrogen plus hydrogen equals helium
TELLER:	it is with the sun's own gravity the weight of itself the incredible pressure at its core that gives rise to fusion	825
BETHE:	those particles have no place to go and yet are travelling at astonishing speed slamming into each other like blind and angry dodgem cars
TELLER:	and it occurred to me that in the split second of a uranium device's detonation an equivalent heat or pressure may exist equal to that found at the core of our sun and if you were to surround that fission device with enough fuel deuterium – heavy hydrogen then maybe maybe it would cause a	830
	fusion reaction.	835
BETHE: TELLER:	We could make a star on the surface of the earth.
OPPIE:	Why stop at splitting the atom why not forge new ones? Not just a nuclear device but thermo nuclear. The energy released would be
BETHE:	colossal.	840
TELLER: BETHE:	A super bomb.
TELLER:	A much higher yield. Much higher. Thousands of times more powerful than a mere fission device a mere uranium bomb.
OPPIE:	A hydrogen bomb.	845

TELLER:	A blast radius of not just one or two miles but what? Thirty- five? Forty? Fifty?
BETHE: OPPIE:	A star on the surface of the world. A fundamental element of your hydrogen device is a uranium device.	850
TELLER: OPPIE: BETHE:	Yes. So we build that first. With a uranium device even with just a uranium device the temperatures and the pressures we are talking about what if we were to set fire to the earth's atmosphere?	855

	He is made to stand on scales, X-rays of his chest are held up to the light. Blood pressure is taken. A stethoscope is placed against his chest.
	GROVES stands nearby.	860
GROVES: DOCTOR:	So, doc does he pass? He's underweight. Eleven pounds short of the minimum required for active duty twenty-seven pounds under what would be ideal for a man of his age and height. He's had a chronic cough
GROVES:	for some years 'Some years'?	865
OPPIE: DOCTOR:	Since 1927. and x-rays of his lungs confirm a mild case of tuberculosis. The patient also suffers from lumbosacral strain lower back spasms and experiences moderate shooting pains down his left leg every two weeks or so. My considered opinion is that this man is not army material and that the physical defects I have mentioned render him permanently incapacitated for active service.	870
GROVES: OPPIE:	You understand all that? I do.	875
GROVES:	[Passes OPPIE some forms .] Sign here to acknowledge these pre-existing medical conditions and to request extended active duty.
OPPIE: GROVES:	[Signs.] Can I ask what rank will I receive? You will be commissioned at the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Stand up, soldier. Welcome to the United States Military.	880

Alone with a neatly folded pile of clothes – his US Army uniform.

OPPIE gets dressed.

	KITTY enters.	885
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	Hello, soldier. Ma'am. Hello, officer.
	They kiss.
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	Everything is packed. Peter is staying behind with Charlotte until they move to Los Alamos next week. I like your uniform. Thank you. Can you order a man to kill?	890
	SERBER enters, also in US Army uniform, that of the rank of sergeant.	895
SERBER: KITTY:	Lieutenant Colonel Oppenheimer, sir Sergeant Robert Serber, reporting for duty, sir! Look at you, Bob!
SERBER: OPPIE:	Very natty, don't you think? Very authoritative. Atten-SHUN! Chin up, chest out, shoulders back, stomach in. Eyes front, soldier!	900
SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	Hey now, that's pretty good. Drop to the floor and give me twenty. That's an order soldier! Sir! Yes, sir! [Starts doing press-ups.]
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY: OPPIE:	Frank called the house. When was this? This morning. I told him not to call again. Was there a click on the line? Did you hear the click?	905
KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	I don't know. How is he? I told him not to call again and I hung up.	910
OPPIE: SERBER:	That was the right thing for you to do. No more no more I have a body designed for mathematics no more
KITTY:	I'll leave you boys to play dress-up. Look at you two glasses like milk bottle bottoms limbs like bamboo all dressed up to go to war. [Exits .]	915
SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	You heard about Joe Weinberg? What about Joe Weinberg? He's been drafted to peel potatoes in Alaska because they think he's a Communist sympathizer.	920
OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE:	Yes, I had heard that. Well? We're all in the military now.
SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	He should be at Los Alamos with the rest of us. What would you have me do? Gee, I don't know, Oppie get him reassigned. You have the stripes now – bark some orders.	925
OPPIE:	And why would I do that?

SERBER: BETHE:	You're out of uniform soldier. It's not possible under these conditions to do as you ask. We will never find the manpower the grad students the PhDs. How am I to recruit them to a project I am not authorized to discuss?
OPPIE:	Any scientist worth our time would surely have guessed what it is we are asking of them
BETHE:	It is unpalatable to me to coerce men onto this bomb project without the full facts
SERBER:	We are not to call it the bomb project.	940
BETHE: SERBER:	Excuse me?
BETHE:	It is the Manhattan Engineer District for reasons of security. This world of codewords and obfuscation it is not my world.
OPPIE:	I'm sorry, but it is.	945
BETHE:	I am already within the circle?
OPPIE:	You are.
BETHE:	These are academics and free-thinkers they are perhaps not so eager to be press-ganged into the military.	050
OPPIE: BETHE:	Then appeal to their patriotism. Take to the seas when the men start wearing flags flags and	950

	as me as Hans Bethe not as not as a buzz-cut as a broken and rebuilt man. I would feel more comfortable if you were to build it as J Robert Oppenheimer as a professor, not	955
	as a colonel.
OPPIE:	Fascism is tearing Europe apart and you want to argue about
BETHE:	the symbolism of our shirts and our pants? I know of fascism! As a German as a man with family still in Germany perhaps my understanding is just that little touch sharper. It must be built here I cannot fathom the other. But I will not wear a uniform. I suspect I will not be alone.
SERBER:	You are a US citizen, Hans.
BETHE:	You think I would wear a German one? The Cult of the Soldier is
OPPIE:	not for us all not even in wartime. I will talk to the General.	965
BETHE:	Thank you. And my recruitment drive?
OPPIE:	There is no room for movement on matters of security.
BETHE:	Fine. [Beat.] I am sorry to hear of your Joe Weinberg.
OPPIE:	It is what it is.	970
BETHE:	To lose good men when we are trying to recruit
OPPIE:	Is that all?
BETHE: OPPIE:	No uniforms? No uniforms.
BETHE:	Thank you. Oh, and [Hands OPPIE a folded piece of paper.]	975
OPPIE:	What is this?	070
BETHE:	The proof that we are in no danger of igniting the atmosphere.
	A near zero possibility. Perhaps it slipped your mind between salutes. [Exits .]

OPPIE:	Get out of that uniform – you look ridiculous.
SERBER:	At least I'll have something to wear for Halloween.

OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER: OPPIE: SERBER:	I need you on a train to Santa Fe in the morning. I need you in Los Alamos as soon as possible. Charlotte and I the plan was to move next week we were to look after Peter Then Charlotte stays behind. It's not an inobvious solution. I can't ask that of her you can't ask of us. OPPIE:	I expect you to acknowledge that there are sacrifices to be made during wartime.	1010
LOMANITZ:	I should not have to throw myself on a spear to prove that I am willing to die for my country.	1010
OPPIE:	You need to be less vocal in your politics in your dealings with people
LOMANITZ:	Are you punishing me? Are you for what? Because of the books I have read the convictions that I hold? The books you lent me the convictions that you instilled. Your lectures those first few weeks of lectures those discussions drinking in the small hours science and art Niels Bohr and	1015
	Roosevelt social reform Engels Hindu scripture and I find myself in my spare time trying on porkpie hats training myself to enjoy pipe tobacco reading Marcel Proust. I'm from Oklahoma!	1020

SERBER: WILSON:	How to Build an Atom Bomb 101. Get yourself two lumps of uranium smack 'em together.	1030
SERBER:	Boom. Here endeth the lesson. Any questions?
WILSON:	'Then why is it so difficult?' I hear you ask.
SERBER:	Ah, well now you're moving out of the theoretical world now
	you want to be practical.	1035
WILSON:	Raw uranium ore won't cut it it needs to be enriched and the infrastructure you'd need to do that would have to be massive.
SERBER:	I mean, there's a handful of countries with the right level of industry and infrastructure.	1040
WILSON:	And uranium is rare and the refined stuff you'd need from it the isotope uranium-235 makes up maybe 0.72% of the naturally occurring stuff.
SERBER:	There's also plutonium but that's a bit too new.
WILSON:	We just don't know that much about it yet.	1045
SERBER:	Well, shoot you want to do this quickly, right?
WILSON:	You're in kind of a rush?
SERBER:	Then you're going to need several processing plants
WILSON:	you're going to need about 10% of the national grid of the US
	to run these plants	1050
SERBER:	and still you'll be lucky if you get a couple of hundred pounds of uranium in a year.
WILSON:	'Well, how much do you need?'
SERBER:	We don't know
WILSON:	and this stuff is far too precious for Trial and Error testing	1055
SERBER:	Getting it together and keeping it together – that's the trick.
WILSON:	You bring it together too slowly you bring not enough of it together
SERBER:	and hey, you'll kill everyone in the room well done.
WILSON:	But it won't be a bomb.	1060
SERBER:	A billion dollar suicide and the Nazis won't give a damn.
WILSON:	So we've got make the most of every last ounce.
SERBER:	Which brings us to tamper materials.
WILSON:	You know on a flashlight how you've got a reflective surface behind the bulb? It's the same deal, only we're putting two	1065 flashlights together – face on. No escape.
SERBER:	This diagram represents a mass of uranium that is currently •=	undergoing fission but it's wasteful. We are losing quite a lot of neutrons through the surface of the mass.
WILSON:	But surround it with a tamper material a material that will	1070 reflect those neutrons back into the uranium
SERBER:	a jacket of something reflective and non-reactive tungsten, say
WILSON:	and those neutrons attempting to escape can't get out.
SERBER:	They're corralled. They're a pack of wolves in a broom cupboard	1075 and they'll tear themselves apart.

34 – THE COMPLAINTS OF CAPTAIN DE SILVA – OMITTED

35 – MILITARY BASE AT LOS ALAMOS

A MILITARY POLICEMAN enters.

POLICEMAN: OPPIE:	Excuse me, Professor Oppenheimer? Yes?
POLICEMAN:	Professor Teller is here to see you.	1080
OPPIE:	Of course.
POLICEMAN:	Professor Teller isn't wearing his white badge.
OPPIE:	Let him in, for god's sake.
POLICEMAN: TELLER:	Yes, sir. [exits] There you have it! Right there! Unbelievable. One cannot visit	1085
	the bathroom without the correct certificate the appropriate permission slip.	1000
OPPIE:	Hello, Edward.
TELLER:	I am tired. I sleep in a dormitory with ten other men. I shower in a communal shower. When my wife and son join me we will	1090 be given a house. It will not be such as yours but as long as there is space for my piano [Beat.] My mail is being censored.
	My wife complains in her letters that my correspondence is mostly thick black lines. Any names - redacted. Any mention of the building situation - redacted. Any complaint about my lack	1095
00015	of privacy – redacted.
OPPIE:	You think they would allow them to pass unchecked?
TELLER:	Two more weeks and they will come. Until then there is the work. I am not tired when I work. I am not tired when the work is interesting.	1100
OPPIE:	No, Edward.
TELLER:	No?
OPPIE:	No, you cannot work on the super bomb.
TELLER:	But a hydrogen bomb! The processes of the stars themselves!	1105
	This is what is fascinating to me not lumps of rock not lumps of degrading rock	1105
OPPIE:	There is not the resource to follow up on the super not at the moment
TELLER:	The numbers you have me working on the calculations
	any member of Hans' theoretical division	1110
OPPIE:	But they would not do it as fast or with as few mistakes as you.
TELLER:	You will do the work that you are assigned. No, I will not.
OPPIE:	No?
TELLER:	It is beneath me.	1115
OPPIE:	Beneath you?
TELLER:	It is a nonsense to have someone of my ability scratching out sums that would barely challenge a college freshman.
OPPIE:	Take your offence and your boredom and your ego – I have no use for them.	1120
TELLER:	There is opportunity here. The things we are learning about	1120
	atomic structure – a decade's worth of peacetime research in a handful of years! We have funding we have resource and you would have me hold back?
OPPIE:	Our enemies are upon us! We have within our reach a blunt	1125 instrument and we will grab it and we will use it and we will win.

TELLER: OPPIE:	There is no beauty or elegance in these equations. Thousands of people – at Los Alamos, Oak Ridge, Berkeley, Chicago and across the entire country – are working toward a single purpose and, contrary to what you may believe, that purpose is to end this war not to enable fantasies of a hydrogen bomb.	1130
TELLER: OPPIE:	I have not fantasized this science it is reality. It is not! It is not a reality unless I say it is. It cannot exist unless I say it exists. And I say that there is no resource for a hydrogen bomb not here not now. Oh oh but excuse me I have forgotten myself you are the great Edward Teller how remiss of me. Of course you may work on your pet project, Edward. The world will simply all have to tolerate a little more	1135
	war a little more slaughter. How shortsighted of me. You may have an hour.	1140
TELLER: OPPIE:	I'm sorry? I will give you one hour every week to come and discuss
TELLER: OPPIE: TELLER:	with me your ideas on the super. That is what you want, isn't it? An hour is no Edward it is all that I will give. And I am supposed to be grateful?	1145
OPPIE:	It is an hour or it is nothing.
:	36 – KITTY AND OPPIE'S LOS ALAMOS HOME
	KITTY and OPPIE's Los Alamos home.
	Nighttime. A party in the distance.	1150
	KITTY and OPPIE. KITTY is visibly pregnant.
	MILITARY POLICEMAN enters from the bedroom.
POLICEMAN: KITTY:	Peter's tucked up snug as a bug in there, Mrs Oppenheimer. Thank you.
POLICEMAN:	Just yell out the window if you need anything, sir.	1155
	The MILITARY POLICEMAN exits.
OPPIE: KITTY:	Our security detail double as babysitters now? I may as well make use of them.
OPPIE:	Groves is unhappy that all the women are pregnant and that my wife is leading by example.	1160
KITTY:	You build a new town in the mountains kids running in the street tricycles jumpropes you provide free government funded healthcare for the men and their families and you're surprised by the birthrate? It's a boomtown, Robert. You've built
OPPIE:	a boomtown. You reek of booze.	1165
KITTY:	It's the chemists' punch. They mix in the alcohol from the lab. Two hundred percent proof. I can still feel it in my throat feel it in my blood. Do you begrudge me a social life?
OPPIE:	No.	1170
KITTY: OPPIE:	What else is there for me to do? No go ahead besides, we may need some new friends.

KITTY: OPPIE: KITTY:	What does that mean? Don't expect a dinner invitation from Edward and Mici Teller. I can live without the Tellers. I can live without his appalling records his awful Beethoven.	1175
OPPIE: KITTY:	He smarts because I made Hans a division leader and not him. He smarts because Groves gave you Los Alamos but he could not build this bomb. He could not rally the men and guide the work. Can you imagine Edward Teller as the Mayor of Boomtown? He has the arrogance and there is an arrogance required to build this weapon of yours to even consider the idea. What is rare is when arrogance is partnered with sacrifice.	1180
OPPIE:	And what have I sacrificed?	44.05
KITTY: OPPIE:	Oh Robert Robert where is your brother? There has to be distance.	1185
KITTY:	Yes.
OPPIE:	There has to be distance. [Beat.] Haakon before we moved up here before work truly began Haakon said he came to me and said that he had been approached by someone who was in contact with the Soviet consulate in San Francisco. He was asking if I wanted to feed information about the bomb to our Soviet allies.	1190
KITTY:	What did you tell him?
OPPIE:	I told him nothing. I may have used the word 'treason'.	1195
KITTY:	You need to tell Groves.
OPPIE:	Yes.
KITTY:	You see that, don't you?
OPPIE:	I do. But Haakon
KITTY:	should never have come to you.	1200
OPPIE:	He's my friend.
KITTY:	Not if he were to ask that. Cast him off. The bomb will not be built by some spineless weakling.
OPPIE:	No.
KITTY:	The man who builds this bomb will be hailed a hero.	1205
OPPIE:	I have never asked for that.
KITTY:	But you have wanted it. Everyone will know your name. Everyone will want to bask in your light.
OPPIE:	My 'light' if I were to show it would strike the world blind.
KITTY:	You cannot be scared of your own potential.	1210
OPPIE:	I have it within me to murder every last soul on the planet – should I not be scared?
