Paper 1 Written Examination

May/June 2022

MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2022 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level and Cambridge Pre-U components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 11 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

BELTOFF is a blunt, literalistic and controlling character who is keen to show the authority he has by virtue of his role as Chairman of the House Committee. He emphasises his position and takes advantage of it to try to manipulate MANYUSHKA and he is consequently rebuked by ZOYA. 4	Read the passage from the opening of the extract as far as line 62 [‘You may go, Manyushka’]. What contrasts of vocal projection could the actors playing MANYUSHKA and ZOYA create in this passage? This is the opening of the play, which starts with a sense of chaos – loud, busy, fast-moving – but which is also good-humoured. ZOYA is the central figure in the drama and MANYUSHKA is her maid. This passage offers potential for contrasts in vocal projection. The encounter is high-octane, with ZOYA singing happily at the news she has received permission to open the studio and MANYUSHKA bursting in to announce the arrival of BELTOFF, an ex-military man and Chairman of the House Committee. Allow credit for making creative suggestions about how the actors could achieve these contrasts to shape the drama. <table border="1"> <tbody> <tr> <td>Band 1</td> <td>A detailed discussion of how to create contrasts of vocal projection, supported by close reference to the passage.</td> <td>4–5 marks</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Band 2</td> <td>An explanation of how to handle contrasts of vocal projection, supported by some reference to the passage.</td> <td>2–3 marks</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Band 3</td> <td>A general description of how to create contrasts of vocal projection.</td> <td>1 mark</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Band 4</td> <td>No creditable response.</td> <td>0 marks</td> </tr> </tbody> </table>	Band 1	A detailed discussion of how to create contrasts of vocal projection, supported by close reference to the passage.	4–5 marks	Band 2	An explanation of how to handle contrasts of vocal projection, supported by some reference to the passage.	2–3 marks	Band 3	A general description of how to create contrasts of vocal projection.	1 mark	Band 4	No creditable response.	0 marks	5

6	Read the passage from line 157, ('Pavel, I've finally got official permission to open the studio') to line 234 ('Exit Manyushka'). As a director, how would you direct the actors to bring out the changing dynamics of this passage? Candidates may interpret changing dynamics as referring to variations in levels of energy, physical movement, pace or emotional intensity. This passage falls into three episodes, and candidates should tailor their answers to reflect this. In the first, Pavel Fyodorovich OBOLÓNSKY (a former count) discusses with ZÓYA a plan for them to leave Russia and go to Paris together. In the second episode, ZÓYA's cousin AMETÍSTOV arrives, craving a beer after his journey and almost immediately bumps into MANYÚSHKA who is returning from fetching beer for OBOLÓNSKY. 11	How successfully did your devised piece build on the dramatic potential of your stimulus? Make close reference to your final performance to support your answer. The focus of the question is on the relationship between stimulus and its realisation.
