MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2019 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This syllabus is regulated for use in England as a Cambridge International Level 1/Level 2 (9–1) Certificate.

This document consists of 11 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however, the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Section 1: Directed Writing

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Question 1 This question tests Writing assessment objectives W1 to W5 (25 marks): W1 Articulate and express what is thought, felt and imagined W2 Organise and structure ideas and opinions for deliberate effect W3 Use a range of appropriate vocabulary and sentence structures W4 Use register appropriate to audience and purpose W5 Make accurate use of spelling, punctuation and grammar and Reading assessment objectives R3 and R5 (15 marks): R3 Analyse and critically evaluate facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text R5 Select and synthesise information for specific purposes <hr/> Write an article for young people about owning animals as pets. In your article you should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • evaluate the views in the passages about keeping animals as pets • give your advice about keeping animals as pets, based on what you have read. Give reasons and examples to support what you say. You should use evidence from the two passages you have read to help you answer this question. Remember to write the article using your own words. You should write about 250 to 350 words. There are up to 25 marks available for the quality of your writing, and 15 marks available for the content of your answer.	40
1	General notes Candidates are marked for their ability to select, evaluate and synthesise ideas from both passages, bringing them together to create a new response. Expect responses to develop convincing arguments, supporting what they say by reference to examples drawn from both passages and assimilating judgements to offer a persuasive overview. Answers should show evidence of engagement and involvement, but also consider the evidence from a critical distance. Look for an appropriate register for the audience and purpose along with an accurate, clear and balanced response which covers the two areas of the question, is well organised and is in the candidate's own words. The following notes on page 3 indicate the ideas candidates might use and develop in their responses. You should use Table A on page 6 to give a mark out of 25 for writing and Table B on page 7 to give a mark out of 15 for reading.

	Indicative content Responses might use the following ideas: In Passage A: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the writer considers keeping exotic animals as pets to be a ‘fashion’ or ‘fad’ – implies irresponsible and superficial understanding of animals • some admiration for hedgehogs in their own habitat is implied • weaker candidates may miss the use of hedgehogs as examples, stronger candidates may broaden points to apply to pets in general • the idea of making money by breeding exotic pets is exploitative and distasteful/appeals to human greed • cruelty towards these animals is driven by the demand for them • Keeping such animals is a ‘whim’, not a considered choice • ‘Specialist requirements’ are ignored by owners as a result • danger of creating habitat problems and non-native species can become invasive. In Passage B: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • people make false distinctions between exotic and domesticated animals • domestic animals may suffer more than exotics – in-breeding, etc. • all animals need care and attention, not just exotics • all pet keepers are the same – they want to take care of and have a relationship with animals • exotic pets are no more likely to create problems than domesticated ones • some animals – horses, cows, large herbivores – cause deaths but owners aren’t criticized in the press.
1	Possible areas for evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the second text is negatively argued – exotic pets create similar problems to domesticated animals – rather than giving specific reasons to keep exotics • to imply that cats have as many needs as exotic pets seems disingenuous • the impact of neglecting animals on the environment and on the animals themselves is greater in more exotic animals • may seem odd to suggest you can have a ‘relationship’ with a hedgehog or tarantula • there may be some discrimination between different animals under the second bullet – the reasons given may show evaluative reading • some candidates may suggest that keeping animals as pets at all may be questionable – both texts can be used to suggest that. Evaluation of the arguments requires candidates to draw inferences and make judgements about whether the advantages outweigh the disadvantages. Evidence should be derived from the ideas and examples in both passages, developing claims and assessing their implications with clear and persuasive arguments.
