MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2008 question paper

0471 TRAVEL AND TOURISM

0471/01

Paper 1 (Written Paper), maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began.

All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2008 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

(e)	With reference to examples with which you are familiar, assess the ways in which national tourist boards promote visitor arrivals. This is a familiar topic and the candidate is being given the opportunity to explain some of the roles of National Tourist Boards. We should, however, expect precise details of actual examples for the higher marks. Credit reference to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Making information available to overseas markets • Web-based services • Offices abroad • Travel shows & fairs • Promotional campaigns • Hosting Farm Trips • Printed materials Use level of response criteria Level 1 (1–2 marks) will be descriptive of some of the above and will be generalised, credit can be awarded for identification. Level 2 (3–4 marks) will analyse one or two of the above with details about identifiable Boards' activities. Level 3 (5–6 marks) will provide evaluative comment about two or more of the above as demonstrated by particular Boards. There will be some form of conclusion about which functions/strategies generate most visitors. Example: National Tourist Boards use a variety of marketing and promotion methods. Most have extensive websites (L1) which make destination information available to the world thus maximising market potential (L2). Overseas offices make material available to key target markets (L1) so they will often run publicity campaigns to promote events and attend travel fairs to showcase tourist facilities etc (L2). However, the fact that most boards host familiarisation visits suggests that these are a very significant part of any marketing and promotion strategy (L3). Such visits will mean that overseas agents will have firsthand experience of the destination and it is they who will advise potential visitors about the destination and influence their choice (L3).
