1 Why choose an OCR A Level in Law?

1a. Why choose an OCR qualification?

Choose OCR and you've got the reassurance that you're working with one of the UK's leading exam boards. Our new A Level in Law has been developed in consultation with teachers, employers and Higher Education to provide learners with a qualification that's relevant to them and meets their needs.

We're part of the Cambridge Assessment Group, Europe's largest assessment agency and a department of the University of Cambridge. Cambridge Assessment plays a leading role in developing and delivering assessments throughout the world, operating in over 150 countries.

We work with a range of education providers, including schools, colleges, workplaces and other institutions in both the public and private sectors. Over 13,000 centres choose our A Levels, GCSEs and vocational qualifications including Cambridge Nationals and Cambridge Technicals.

Our Specifications

We believe in developing specifications that help you bring the subject to life and inspire your learners to achieve more.

We've created teacher-friendly specifications based on extensive research and engagement with the teaching community. They're designed to be straightforward and accessible so that you can tailor the delivery of the course to suit your needs. We aim to encourage learners to become responsible for their own learning, confident in discussing ideas, innovative and engaged.

We provide a range of support services designed to help you at every stage, from preparation through to the delivery of our specifications. This includes:

- A wide range of high-quality creative resources including:
 - Delivery Guides
 - Transition Guides
 - Topic Exploration Packs
 - Lesson Elements
 - ...and much more.
- Access to Subject Advisors to support you through the transition and throughout the lifetimes of the specifications.
- CPD/Training for teachers to introduce the qualifications and prepare you for first teaching.
- Active Results – our free results analysis service to help you review the performance of individual learners or whole schools.

Our Resource Partner textbook will develop knowledge and skills with its comprehensive coverage of the assessment structure and all the law topics your students need to know.

All A level qualifications offered by OCR are accredited by Ofqual, the Regulator for qualifications offered in England. The accreditation number for OCR's A Level in Law is QN603/0706/7.

1b. Why choose an OCR A Level in Law?

This engaging course has been developed following the input of teachers and higher education stakeholders. The content has been designed to inspire, nurture and develop learners. It will foster their interest and enjoyment in law. The qualification is designed to develop knowledge and skills for the further study of law, and related subjects, such as business. Learners will develop their knowledge of the law in England, and an awareness of law in a European and global context. The course will enable learners to know and understand the changing nature of law and the interaction between law, morals, justice, society and technology.

Aims and learning outcomes

OCR's A Level in Law will encourage learners to:

- develop their knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and areas of both private and public law within the law of England and Wales
- develop an understanding of legal method and reasoning as used by lawyers and the judiciary
- develop and apply the techniques of legal method and reasoning to analyse and offer answers to problems, based on legal principles, legislation and case law
- develop the ability to construct conclusions and communicate legal arguments by reference to appropriate legal authorities
- develop the ability to communicate persuasive legal arguments by reference to appropriate legal authorities
- be able to demonstrate critical awareness of the influence and operation of the law in society.

1c. What are the key features of this specification?

The key features of OCR's A Level in Law for you and your learners are:

- a straightforward specification with a straightforward assessment model
- specialist support and quality resources
- an opportunity to specialise in human rights law or the law of contract
- co-teachability between AS and A Level
- breadth, with a range of legal subjects.

1d. What is new in OCR A Level in Law?

This section is intended for teachers currently delivering OCR A Level in Law. It highlights the differences between the A Level in Law (H534) and the A Level in Law (H415) for first teaching from September 2017:

What stays the same?	What's changing?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Assessment is at the end of the course • Assessment focuses on knowledge and understanding; applying legal rules and principles and analysis and evaluation • Content and structure are familiar although updated • Learners will study the English legal system and substantive law • Engaging introduction to law. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The assessment consists of three exams, two hours each • Assessment styles are consistent across all three components • Shorter questions • Learners will study three substantive areas of law – criminal law, law of tort and law of contract or the new option in human rights law.

All components include synoptic assessment.

Twelve month rule:

While learners are encouraged to be aware of the changing nature of law, they are not required to be familiar with innovations coming into effect in the twelve months immediately preceding the examination.

2b. Content of A Level in Law (H415)

The OCR A Level in Law content focuses on the English legal system and areas of both private and public law within the law of England and Wales. Learners will be required to show knowledge and understanding of the nature of law and the English legal system. This will provide learners with the foundation for the study of both private and public law. This specification will develop learners' understanding of legal method and reasoning through the study of statutory interpretation and judicial precedent.

Learners will be introduced to the concept of legal liability through the study of criminal law and the law of tort. This will enable them to develop and apply the techniques of legal method and reasoning to analyse and offer answers to legal problems, based on legal rules and principles and develop the ability to construct and communicate legal arguments by reference to appropriate legal authorities. The A Level in Law will develop learners' knowledge of law through advanced study of an additional legal subject – human rights law or the law of contract. They will develop their critical awareness of the law through the study of the nature of law.

The English legal system and the nature of law is split into three sections:

- Component 01 Section A: the legal system
- Component 02 Section A: law making
- Component 03: Section A: the nature of law

Each section A is worth 8⅓ % of the overall marks – the English legal system and the nature of law accounts for 25% of the overall qualification.

The legal system and criminal law (Component 01)

This component introduces learners to the legal system. It also introduces learners to the concept of liability through an introduction to criminal law.

This component is split into two sections, Section A: the legal system and Section B: criminal law.

Law making and the law of tort (Component 02)

This component introduces learners to the law making. It also introduces learners to the concept of liability through an introduction to the law of tort.

This component is split into two sections, Section A: law making and Section B: the law of tort.

Further Law (Component 03)

This component will enable learners to extend their study of law. They will explore and consider in more detail the nature of law and develop their legal knowledge through the study of one option, either human rights law or the law of contract. This component is split into two sections, Section A: the nature of law and Section B: human rights law or the law of contract.

2c. Content of H415/01 – The legal system and criminal law

2c. Legal Skills

This qualification:

- develops competence in using legal skills during the study of the nature of law, legal issues and the English legal system, and the private and public areas of substantive law.
- requires learners to demonstrate their ability to analyse a factual scenario by identifying the key facts from which legal issues arise.
- requires learners, when formulating a legal argument, to be able to analyse legislation by applying the rules and principles of statutory interpretation; and analyse case law by applying the doctrine of precedent.
- requires learners, in respect of each private and public area of substantive law they are required to study, to analyse, apply and evaluate the legal rules and principles of that area of law. Analysis and application must include the ability to identify and breakdown into constituent parts the relevant legal rules and principles for each area of law and apply those legal principles to a hypothetical scenario. Evaluation must require learners to formulate a reasoned argument to support a particular proposition by reference to the relevant legal rules and principles that support that argument.
- requires learners to construct clear, concise and logical legal arguments which are substantiated by legal authority, using appropriate legal terminology. In addition, learners must be required to construct a persuasive argument including instances where they have recognised that there are no clear legal precedents or conflicting precedents to solve a problem.
- requires learners to analyse and critically evaluate legal issues by identifying different perspectives, being able to support their identification of the strongest viewpoint and demonstrating the ability to counter alternative viewpoints.

2d. Prior knowledge, learning and progression

- No prior learning or knowledge of the subject is required.
- Throughout the course of study, learners are encouraged to develop a critical awareness of how legal institutions operate in society and the changing nature of law in society.
- This qualification provides a suitable opportunity for the study of law or related courses in higher education. Equally, it is suitable for learners intending to pursue business careers or further study in business, social sciences or as part of a course of general education.

3 Assessment of A Level in Law (H415)

3a. Forms of assessment

OCR's A Level in Law is a linear qualification with 100% external assessment. The qualification consists of three components. All components will test all three assessment objectives (AO1, AO2 and AO3).

The legal system and criminal law (H415/01) 100 marks	Section A: the legal system A choice of medium tariff questions Section B: criminal law Legal scenario and extended response questions
Law making and the law of tort (H415/02) 100 marks	Section A: law making A choice of medium tariff questions Section B: the law of tort Legal scenario and extended response questions
Further law (H415/03) 100 marks	In this component the nature of law is compulsory and learners must choose between either human rights law or the law of contract. Section A: the nature of law A choice of extended response questions Section B: human rights law or the law of contract Legal scenario and extended response questions

Components 01 and 02

Components 01 and 02 have exactly the same structure. The structure will follow this pattern:

Questions	AO1	AO2 1a/1b	AO3 1a	AO3 1b	Total
1–2	10	0	0	0	10
3–4	0	0	0	15	15
5 or 8	10	15	0	0	25
6 or 9	10	15	0	0	25
7 or 10	10	0	15	0	25
Total	40	30	15	15	100

Section A

Learners will answer two questions.

Questions 1–2 will require learners to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of the English legal system. Learners will answer one question from two. Questions 1–2 are worth 10 marks.

Questions 3–4 will require learners to analyse and evaluate legal concepts. Learners will answer one question from two. Questions 3–4 do not require a conclusion and are worth 15 marks.

Section B

All Section B questions are worth 25 marks.

Learners will answer Part 1 or Part 2, each composing of two scenario questions and one essay question.

Questions 5, 6, 8 and 9 will require learners to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of legal rules and principles and to apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. Learners will use their legal reasoning developed through the study of statutory interpretation and judicial precedent. The scenarios may or may not be related – this will be made clear on the assessment material.

Questions 7 and 10 will require learners to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of legal rules and principles and analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. Learners will be required to consider the law in relation to the relevant legal theory. This question is separate from the scenarios and is considered an extended response question. It should be treated as an essay requiring a conclusion.

Component 03

Component 03 has the following structure:

Questions	AO1	AO2 1a/1b	AO3 1a	AO3 1b	Total
1 or 2	10	0	0	15	25
3, 6, 9 or 12	10	15	0	0	25
4, 7, 10 or 13	10	15	0	0	25
5, 8, 11 or 14	10	0	15	0	25
Total	40	30	15	15	100

Learners will answer one question from two.

Questions 1–2 will require learners to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles, and analyse and evaluate legal concepts and issues. Learners will be required to draw together their knowledge and understanding from across their full course of study. This question is considered an extended response question. It should be treated as an essay requiring a conclusion.

Section A questions are worth 25 marks.

Section B

All Section B questions are worth 25 marks.

Learners will answer Option 1 or Option 2, and from these options either Part 1 or Part 2, each composing of two scenario questions and an essay question.

Questions 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 12 and 13 will require learners to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of legal rules and principles and to apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. Learners will use their legal reasoning developed through the study of statutory interpretation and judicial precedent. The scenarios may or may not be related. This will be made clear on the assessment material.

Questions 5, 8, 11 and 14 will require learners to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of legal rules and principles and analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. Learners will be required to consider the law in relation to the relevant legal theory. This question is separate from the scenarios and is considered an extended response question. It should be treated as an essay requiring a conclusion.

Command words

Explain or describe is to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles (AO1).

Advise is to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of legal rules and principles (AO1), and, in combination, apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology (AO2).

3b. Assessment objectives (AO)

There are three Assessment Objectives in OCR A Level in Law. These are detailed in the table below.

Learners are expected to demonstrate their ability to:

	Assessment Objective
AO1	Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles.
AO2	Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology.
AO3	Analyse and evaluate legal rules, principles, concepts and issues.

AO weightings in A Level in Law

The relationship between the assessment objectives and the components are shown in the table below:

Component	% of overall A level in Law (H415)
	AO1	AO2	AO3
The legal system and criminal law (H415/01)	13⅓	10	10
Law making and the law of tort (H415/02)	13⅓	10	10
Further law (H415/03)	13⅓	10	10
Total	40	30	30

3c. Assessment availability

There will be one examination series available each year in May/June to all learners.

examination series at the end of the course.

All examined components must be taken in the same

This specification will be certificated from the June 2019 examination series onwards.

3d. Retaking the qualification

Learners can retake the qualification as many times as they wish. They retake all components of the qualification.

3e. Assessment of extended response

The assessment materials for this qualification provide learners with the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to construct and develop a sustained and coherent line of reasoning and marks for extended responses are integrated into the marking criteria.

The quality of extended response will be assessed in the evaluation essay questions for each area of law and in the nature of law essay questions which are marked with an asterisk in the assessment material.

3f. Synoptic assessment

- Synoptic assessment is the learners' understanding of the connections between different elements of the subject. It involves the explicit drawing together of knowledge, skills and understanding within different parts of the A level course.
- The emphasis of synoptic assessment is to encourage the understanding of law as a discipline.
- Learners will use their understanding of legal method and reasoning developed through the study of the English legal system, whilst answering scenario questions on criminal law and the law of tort, applying legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology.
- At A level learners will answer questions on the nature of law in Component 03. This will focus on how the law interacts with morality, justice, society and technology. In answering the questions learners will be required to use their knowledge and understanding gained from the entire course of study for A Level Law.

3g. Calculating qualification results

A learner's overall qualification grade for A Level in Law will be calculated by adding together their marks from the three components taken to give their total weighted mark. This mark will then be compared to the qualification level grade boundaries for the relevant exam series to determine the learner's overall qualification grade.

4 Admin: what you need to know

The information in this section is designed to give an overview of the processes involved in administering this qualification so that you can speak to your exams officer. All of the following processes require you to submit something to OCR by a specific deadline.

More information about the processes and deadlines involved at each stage of the assessment cycle can be found in the Administration area of the OCR website.

OCR's Admin overview is available on the OCR website at <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration>.

4a. Pre-assessment

Estimated entries

Estimated entries are your best projection of the number of learners who will be entered for a qualification in a particular series. Estimated entries should be submitted to OCR by the specified deadline. They are free and do not commit your centre in any way.

Final entries

Final entries provide OCR with detailed data for each learner, showing each assessment to be taken. It is essential that you use the correct entry code, considering the relevant entry rules.

Final entries must be submitted to OCR by the published deadlines or late entry fees will apply.

All learners taking an A Level in Law must be entered for H415.

Entry code	Title	Component code	Component title	Assessment type
H415	Law	01	The legal system and criminal law	External Assessment
		02	Law making and the law of tort	External Assessment
		03	Further law	External Assessment

4b. Special consideration

Special consideration is a post–assessment adjustment to marks or grades to reflect temporary injury, illness or other indisposition at the time the assessment was taken.

Detailed information about eligibility for special consideration can be found in the JCQ publication A guide to the special consideration process.

4c. External assessment arrangements

Regulations governing examination arrangements are contained in the JCQ Instructions for conducting examinations.

Head of centre annual declaration

The Head of Centre is required to provide a declaration to the JCQ as part of the annual NCN update, conducted in the autumn term, to confirm that the centre is meeting all of the requirements detailed in the specification.

Any failure by a centre to provide the Head of Centre Annual Declaration will result in your centre status being suspended and could lead to the withdrawal of our approval for you to operate as a centre.

Private candidates

Private candidates may enter for OCR assessments.

A private candidate is someone who pursues a course of study independently but takes an examination or assessment at an approved examination centre. A private candidate may be a part-time student, someone taking a distance learning course, or someone being tutored privately. They must be based in the UK.

Private candidates need to contact OCR approved centres to establish whether they are prepared to host them as a private candidate. The centre may charge for this facility and OCR recommends that the arrangement is made early in the course.

Further guidance for private candidates may be found on the OCR website: <http://www.ocr.org.uk>.

4d. Results and certificates

Grade Scale

A level qualifications are graded on the scale: A*, A, B, C, D, E, where A* is the highest. Learners who fail to reach the minimum standard for E will be Unclassified (U). Only subjects in which grades A* to E are attained will be recorded on certificates.

Results

Results are released to centres and learners for information and to allow any queries to be resolved before certificates are issued.

The following supporting information will be available:

Centres will have access to the following results' information for each learner:

- the grade for the qualification
- the raw mark for each component
- the total weighted mark for the qualification.

- raw mark grade boundaries for each component
- weighted mark grade boundaries for the qualification.

Until certificates are issued, results are deemed to be provisional and may be subject to amendment.

A learner's final results will be recorded on an OCR certificate. The qualification title will be shown on the certificate as 'OCR Level 3 Advanced GCE in Law'.

4e. Post-results services

A number of post-results services are available:

- Enquiries about results
If you are not happy with the outcome of a learner's results, centres may submit an enquiry about results.

- Missing and incomplete results
This service should be used if an individual subject result for a learner is missing, or the learner has been omitted entirely from the results supplied.
- Access to scripts
Centres can request access to marked scripts.

4f. Malpractice

Any breach of the regulations for the conduct of examinations and non-exam assessment work may constitute malpractice (which includes maladministration) and must be reported to OCR as soon as it is detected.

Detailed information on malpractice can be found in the JCQ publication Suspected Malpractice in Examinations and Assessments: Policies and Procedures.

5 Appendices

5a. Overlap with other qualifications

There is no significant overlap between the content of this specification and that for other Advanced GCE specifications. There is a small degree of overlap between the content of this specification and those for other AS Levels and A Levels in Business and AS Levels and A Levels in Politics.

5b. Accessibility

Reasonable adjustments and access arrangements allow learners with special educational needs, disabilities or temporary injuries to access the assessment and show what they know and can do, without changing the demands of the assessment. Applications for these should be made before the examination series. Detailed information about eligibility for access arrangements can be found in the JCQ Access Arrangements and Reasonable Adjustments.

The A level qualification and subject criteria have been reviewed in order to identify any feature that could disadvantage learners who share a protected characteristic as defined by the Equality Act 2010. All reasonable steps have been taken to minimise any such disadvantage.

5c. Levels of Assessment

	A01	A02	A03	A03 extended response
